

Dance, Party and Wedding Bands

High end vocals, powerful musicianship, great moves, a sharp look and supreme charisma equate to exceptional entertainment for your corporate event, special occasion or wedding. Band leaders are trained in "the Art of the Party" from precise planning to on-site management, Bändhouse execution means you can relax and enjoy the moments with your guests!

Our dance and party bands deliver music that hits the spot.

Your Bändhouse band leader will contact you to review every detail of your event, your taste in music and every activity that will take place. This allows your dance band to produce a timeline of events and surround them with the proper music. This timeline maps out when special moments such as the toast, first dance and introductions will occur so that the music will complement each activity seamlessly.

Our goal is to allow you to relax and thoroughly enjoy the occasion! Your Bändhouse band leader meets with all involved party vendors like the caterer, photographer, and videographer, to review the timeline and ensure everyone is prepared. Your dance band takes responsibility for keeping the entertainment going and the party running smoothly. It's all about creating the ultimate party - we go to any length to make sure your event is properly planned and extraordinarily entertaining.

Captivating and interactive, our bands will excite and amaze your guests.

Having performed thousands of events including weddings, commitment ceremonies, corporate and special events, Bändhouse dance bands use that experience to help you plan your event and make it memorable long after the party is over. We learn from each unique event and approach yours with fresh, yet seasoned eyes. Because of that, expect to receive a lot of calls, letters and positive feedback on your entertainment choice for months and years to come.
